SPORTS CLUBS VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES

Preference is given to coaches with strong soccer, chess, or basketball knowledge (prior coaching experience is a bonus), a love for working with children and youth, and a desire to share Christ and build relationships with the players and families.

SOCCER CLUB

Time commitment: 2.5 hours per week

BASKETBALL CLUB

Time commitment: 2 hours per week

CHESS PROGRAM

Time commitment: 1.5 to 4 hours per week

DISCIPLESHIP

- Looking for mature Christian men and women
- Passionate about mentoring and disciple-making
- Weekly time commitment: TBD

Connect with youth from our programs who are new or young in their faith, and empower both youth and committed volunteers to work out what it means to follow Christ together. Sports interest is not necessary

ON THE FIELD

DOMESTIC

NORTH CAROLINA

The local Charlotte ministry is serving weekly at the Thompson Children's Home, where the teams provides sports ministry to children ages eight to 13. An after school Chess Ministry program. also takes place.

Future plans include a summer sports camp for four local high risk elementary schools, and a weekly basketball ministry for military veterans.

VIRGINIA

Ministry programs include soccer, basketball and chess clubs as well as multi sport camps and an annual adult soccer tournament.

SOUTH CAROLINA/GEORGIA

Ministries include leading sports clinics at PE classes, leading small groups at Good News Clubs and hosting community wide sports tournaments. The school year program allows older youth to be trained and equipped to lead VBS style sports camps during the summer months.

TEXAS

Dallas/Fort Worth, TX

Ministry team members have been sharing soccer skills and Christ's love amongst nearly 2,700 K to 12 students in five metro area charter schools. SOI mentors youngsters and shares the message of Hope at sports tournaments.

Freedom City FC will begin hosting an after school program for students with hopes of adding a Saturday morning program in the future.

INTERNATIONAL

AFRICA MISSION FIELD

— Gulu, Uganda. Home base for ministry programs in rural communities of northern Uganda is a 40 acre teaching farm called the Good News Community Center (or Koro Farm) in Gulu. Holistic ministry efforts include sports ministry through soccer, chess, and volleyball, preschool classes, a safe house and programs for traumatize girls/women, vocational skill training, agricultural and animal husbandry education, and refugee outreach.

— Kampala, Uganda. Ministry programs started with the Good News Futbol Club (GNFC), a soccer team built to train and disciple Christian leaders. The GNFC team members serve daily in 5 different slum projects and compete in outreach soccer matches where the Gospel is shared and community members are connected to local churches.

— Nairobi, Kenya. Ministry includes training and discipling of youth soccer teams, feeding over 1200 children a day, serving women through vocational skills and bible studies, and leading 300 children in chess classes.

LATIN AMERICA MISSION FIELD

— San Salvador, El Salvador. Our newest mission field has its roots set deep into sports ministry through soccer academy, chess lessons, and PE classes at neighboring schools. Our team also leads an English Academy to strengthen English language skills for young men and women.

— Ometepec, Mexico. Tim and Barbara Wood have been leading ministry efforts here for 20 years. Tim annually shepherds coaches and players in a 12 team soccer league for middle school aged kids and serves alongside 8 different church plants located within the southwest region of Mexico. Barbara works alongside teachers at the Carey Brenton School for junior and high school students teaching English and bible classes.
